ROMEO AND JULIET

Were lovers of sentiment. There's a sort of sentiment in our stock of Furniture we invite attention to. It's the sentiment of "saving money." You can't make a purchase in our store during October without getting a bargain. We are able to buy in such quantities there is always a saving in price and freight.

These facts are the result of our low prices. You and your friends are invited to inspect our immense stock. You will find something to interest you.

We are showing Parlor Suits in our windows for two or three days.

The prices on them tell the story.

TEAS, COFFEES AND SPICES

have been added to our list of products in our Soap Order Department. The blenders guarantee them and our own guarantee also stands back of these goods. Ask us for the new Premium List.

Plays that are along the same lines as the teachings of the church are few and far between. "The Volunteer Organist" is just such a drama and as the Rev. Howard Sturges has said, the tie between church and stage is made the more secure by this beautiful play. It tells a story that few, if any dramatists have hitherto handled in a manner that is both pleasing to its hearers and unobjectionable to the clergy. The character of the young minister is indeed a strong part and its portrayal by the gentleman in whose hands it is, is a delicate bit of art. The entire cast, and it is an unusually large one, was most carefully chosen so that the presentation of the piece will have at the opera house tonight will be a dramatic treat.
